LETTER WRITTEN WIFE MAY PROVE IMPORTANT IN HARRY POWERS CASE

"Bluebeard" Instructs
Wife's Testimony
Reporters Find

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.,
Dec. 5.—A letter from Harry Powers, West Virginia Blue-
beard, written to his wife and sister-in-law from prison, was expected to play an important part in the state's case
against the man of many missives, when he goes on trial for murder next Monday.

The letter was written shortly
after Powers was arrested for the slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Presler Lemke of Northboro, Mass. Mrs.
Asa Elmer of Park Ridge, Ill. and
the latter's three young children.
In the array of damning evidence to be presented by the prosecution against Powers there will be many letters—correspondence
pledging his heart to many women
whom he intended to lure to his
"slaughter garage" at Quiet Dell
as he lured his known victims.

But this particular letter is a document containing specific instructions to his wife, Luella, and sister-in-law, Eva Strother, as to how they must testify at his trial.
It plans a defense against the discovery in his home of the clothing and household effects of the two strangled women. Both Mrs.
Powers and her sister denied knowledge of the presence of these effects.

Powers further writes how they should explain the money he gave them to deposit in the bank. Authorities claim this money was the property of Mrs. Lemke.

The massive, remarkable in other ways, written by the matron of the letter-writing Romeo, was turned over to authorities by the International News Service correspondent and Ed Freeman, reporter for the Baltimore News. It was

SHOUP OUSTER SUIT IS HEARD

Appellate Court To Reserve Decision

At the conclusion of a hearing
at the Court House in Dayton Friday, the second district Greene County Court of Appeals reserved a decision in the ouster suit
brought by Erith Shoup in an effort to unseat Edwin L. Stafford
as an appointive member of the Beaver Creek Twp. board of education.
Shoup, through his counsel, Attorney Marcus Shoup, argued before the appellate court that Stafford's appointment by the Beaver school board last July to fill the unexpired term of George Shank,
resigned, was illegal since he was elected at a meeting at which only
three of the remaining four board members were present. Two of the three members voted for him.
Ignoring the previous election of Stafford, the school board, with all members present, elected Shoup a month ago to the seat held by Stafford. He received a majority vote.
Stafford, in his answer to the ouster
suit, denied the legality of Shoup's election.

ARCHDUKE PLANS TO DIVORCE WIFE

VIENNA, Dec. 5.—Archduke Maximilian, only brother of the late ex-
emperor Karl of Austria, is preparing to divorce his wife, Franziska, the former Princess of Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst, according to reliable information here to-
day.
It was understood that "financial reasons" would be given as grounds
for the divorce.
Following the loss of part of the family fortune, the Archduchess has been working as a representative of a Paris fashion
firm.

Archduke Maximilian and his wife, who were married at Luxemburg in 1917, have two children.

NOTED SCULPTRESS GOES UNDER KNIFE

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, noted sculptress,
was today reported "doing satisfactorily" following an operation
for acute mastoiditis.

Mrs. Whitney is the widow of Harry Payne Whitney, capitalist
and sportsman, who died in 1930.
She is a daughter of Cornelius and Alice Gwynne Vanderbilt.

AIR HERO, BRIDE

Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland, army flyer famed as the winner of the Dole race from San Francisco to Hawaii several years ago has forsaken bachelorhood. He is shown above with his bride, the former Kathleen McManus, of San Antonio, Tex., to whom he was married recently.

LEADERS OF RUBBER INDUSTRY EXPRESS OPTIMISTIC TREND

Revival Expected Soon
Say Akron
Officials

AKRON, O., Dec. 5.—A current of optimism is running through the Ohio rubber industry as 1932 approaches.

Offering reasons which they support with figures, leaders of the industry predict a revival of trade,
starting in January, that will become well-marked by spring.

Officials of three of the country's principal rubber concerns agreed
in this optimistic view today in interviews obtained by the International News Service.

"I am more optimistic about the tire business for 1932 than I have been for many years," J. D. Tew, president of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., said. "I am more pleased right now than at any time
in the last five years, and I can't believe that many months will have passed in 1932 before there will be an appreciable upturn."

"Nothing spectacular," but nevertheless a gradual improvement, is anticipated by C. C. Slusser, vice president and factory manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.
William O'Neill, president of the General Tire & Rubber Co., expressed similar hopes. "I feel confident," he said, "that the tire industry will see a decided upturn in business with the coming of spring."

An upward swing is expected by Tew because, he said, "A turning point has been reached, not only in the rubber industry, but in industry in general."

The Goodrich company president
also listed other reasons.

"I cannot help but believe that prices of rubber and cotton will go up, and with them the prices of tires will rise, thus making it possible to sell tires for a price which will net a reasonable profit after
cost of materials and labor, a situation which does not now exist,"
he said.

O'Neill declared he can see better
business ahead because of forward
striking taken by the industry.

"Prospects for the coming winter are good, for our company, because we are planning something new in the way of tire style," he stated.

TREASURY BALANCE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Treasury balance as of Dec. 3: $132,214, $131,311; expenditures $11,767,728.44;
customs receipts $3,193,302.04.

PICKPOCKET KING TO DIE IN POVERTY

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The king of pickpockets was on the verge of death today.
On a small white cot in the Cook
County Hospital, Eddie "The Immune" Jackson was waging a losing battle against the ravages of cerebral hemorrhage from which doctors say he will not recover.
His death is expected momentarily.

Once known as America's wealthiest purse and pocket thief, Eddie is penniless today as he approaches the end of his strange career. He was nicknamed "The Immune" because of his astounding
ability to liberate himself from the toils of the law.

Since 1894 when he first achieved notoriety Eddie has been arrested 650 times by Chicago police alone. But his known convictions number less than five.

Thirty-seven years ago Eddie
first began earning his monicker
of "The Immune" when a larceny
charge against him was nolles-
sed. In 1913 he was found guilty by a jury, but the conviction was thrown out by the judge who ruled that a juror was prejudiced. The juror had said he vaguely remembered Eddie's face as that of a man who tried to commit a similar offense many years before.

In 1929 he was committed to the Joliet State Prison, but was released on parole. He vanished and was not heard from again until seven days ago when he entered the county hospital ill and ragged
and asked for admittance as a charity patient.

"Bad booze got me, doc," he told
a county physician.

JAPAN TO WITHHOLD TROOPS IF CHINESE FORCES WITHDRAWN

JUDGE AS SLEUTH

Judge Francis Borrelli of Chicago, in the dress of a hoodlum,
the disguise he used to penetrate
haunts of the notorious "42" gang
and bring about arrests that are regarded as death knell of one of Chicago's most notorious gangs.
Judge Borrelli mingled with the gangsters for a month, then brought about their arrests.

PROBE CHARGE THAT LABOR EXPLOITED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Major General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, has launched a personal investigation into charges
of President William Green of the American Federation of Labor
that contractors engaged in flood control work on the lower Mississippi River have "oppressed and exploited workmen shamefully."

Brown has been on an inspection
tour of the lower Mississippi for some time, and was apprised of the Labor Federation charges
while on the ground, according to Brig. General George B. Pillsbury,
assistant to the chief of engineers.
He will inquire thoroughly into
the situation and report on conditions when he returns, Pillsbury
said.

Green charged that in many instances workmen were compelled to work twelve hours a day and more for starvation wages. He made public a report charging that some laborers were not paid all their wages, and were compelled to buy necessities from "high priced commissaries."

NEW DRY DEPUTY FOR CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 5.—Leroy Rohrer of Hagerstown, Md., today
held an appointment to succeed
Hugh S. Burdus as deputy administrator of prohibition in the southern district of Ohio with headquarters here.

Announcement of Rohrer's appointment was made here by William N. Woodruff, head of the prohibition force in this territory.
Burdus tendered his resignation of the post because of ill health.

Insists On Direct Ne- gotiations Over Government

QUAI D'ORSAY, Paris,
Dec. 5.—Japan will insist upon direct negotiations with China for the government of the proposed neutral zone in the Chinchow area of South
Manchuria, but will promise
not to send troops into the zone if Chinese forces withdraw beyond the great wall, it was learned here today.

Instructions to this effect were understood to have been received by Kenkichi Yoshizawa, the Japanese delegate, for presentation to the League of Nations Council.

A meeting of the twelve neutral
members of the council was tentatively scheduled for 4 p. m. To give further consideration to the preamble which will accompany the council's resolution providing for an inquiry in Manchuria by a League commission.

If the terms of the preamble can
be agreed upon today, another meeting was expected on Monday
to take up the neutral zone problem.

TRUSTIES FORCED TO WALK HOME

MANFIELD, O., Dec. 5.—Trusty privileges were expected to be revoked today in the cases of William Bryant, 24, and Arthur Jorgensen, 24, inmates of the Mansfield
reformatory, who took "time off"
from the drab reformatory routine
Thursday night and "went on a lark" in Cleveland.

The two prisoners took "French
leave" from Guard Robert Kyle
with whom they had gone to Cleveland to deliver a load of furniture
to the Cleveland State Hospital,
while Kyle was delivering another prisoner to a Cleveland court.

According to their own admissions, Bryant, imprisoned for forgery, and Jorgensen, an automobile
thief, went to a W. 25th St. address
in Cleveland where they imbibed freely. When they "came to" according to their story, they started back to Mansfield to resume their life behind the bars.

CEDARVILLE SCHOOL SAFE IS CRACKED BY YEGGS ON FRIDAY

Yeggs cracked a safe in the office of the school superintendent
at Cedarville High School sometime Friday night, but whether anything of value was stolen remained undetermined, pending the return of Supt. H. D. Furst, who was in Columbus Saturday and is not expected back before late in the afternoon.
Mayor A. J. Richards, of Cedarville, to whom the burglary was reported following its discovery late Saturday morning, learned Supt.
Furst had visited the bank Friday
afternoon and said it was probable
he had deposited any school funds

Clara Bow Honeymooning With Rex Bell On Ranch

"It Girl," After Many
Romances, Married
Secretly

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5.—Clara
Bow, the widely known bride,
will return to Hollywood about January 1, to start work on her
"comeback picture" following a December honeymoon at the 10,000
acre cattle ranch of her new husband, Rex Bell, rich cowboy film
actor, at Nipton, Cal., sixty miles
from Las Vegas, Nev., and ten miles from the nearest telephone or telegraph station, it was announced at a studio here today.

Miss Bow, one time idol of flap-perdom, and whose romances have been daring, was married to Bell
by District Judge William E. Orr
in his offices Thursday night at Las Vegas, Nev.

The witnesses were Undersher-iff R. G. McCurry and District Attorney Harley Harmon, who as attorney for Bell had just negotiated a private settlement of a gambling
debt Bell and Miss Bow had lost on a pre-honeymoon party at the Meadows gambling casino.

Clara, the witnesses said, wore
a wine colored sports dress, a Eugenie hat and a fur coat. Bell wore a brown business suit.

Although Bell declined to verify
the marriage on the ground that it would hurt a motion picture contract of Miss Bow, inquiry of Miss Bow's producer in Hollywood revealed that her career will not be interfered with by any anti-marriage contract clause.

At Las Vegas, Robert Bow,
father of the one time Brooklyn
playgirl who became wealthy from motion pictures, stormed at newspaper men and photographers who thronged his cafe in search of the honeymooners.

Bell met friends at this father-in-law's cafe and admitted that a marriage license had been issued. He and Clara were scheduled to leave
for his cattle ranch for an "isolated honeymoon."

Bell described one of the rooms
of Miss Bow's new house near his Nipton ranch house in which they will honeymoon.

"The downstairs parlor is eighty feet long. I told Clara not to build

CONGRESS WILL FACE TREASURY DEFICIT; MUST FIND REVENUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Congress, going into session Monday,
will find the treasury with a deficit of about $875,000,000, and facing the prospect of a figure of upwards of $3,000,000,000 "in the red"
by next June.

It will tackle as its most important
job that of providing new sources
of revenue to cut an enormous excess of expenditures over receipts.
Budget figures will be given to congress within a few days after the opening of the session. It has not been disclosed what the treasury and budget bureau have estimated as the probable year end
deficit. However, figures available
today showed that up to December 3, the deficit is nearly three times
that of the same date last year,
indicating a figure of more than $2,500,000,000 for June 30.

However, the rate of increase of the deficit as compared with the 1931 fiscal year will be greater
after March 15 unless tax legislation proves sufficient to boost revenue based on incomes of 1931. No
substantial increase is anticipated.
This factor probably would tackle $200,000,000 or more in addition to the deficit.

An enormous increase in the public debt for the year was expected
push the outstanding volume by
next June to over $15,000,000,000
as compared with $16,155,309,999
June 30, 1930. It would be no surprise to see income taxes for the year fall to around a billion dollars as compared with $1,830,300,000
in the 1931 fiscal year and $2,410, 900,000 in 1930.

The treasury's December 15 financing program will be announced
Monday. The maturities are $451, 716,959 in 3 1/2 per cent notes and $543,499,999 in 1 7/8 per cent certificates.

It may be necessary for congress
to authorize the appropriation of $120,000,000 for payment of veterans' loans. The appropriation which automatically would have been available January 1, 1932, under the law, was made available
a year earlier by the last congress
since the accumulated funds from the public debt for the year was expected

push the outstanding volume by
next June to over $15,000,000,000
as compared with $16,155,309,999
June 30, 1930. It would be no sur-

BATTLE OVER MOSES AND BANKHEAD SEAT CAUSE FOR CONCERN

Legislative Action May Be Blocked By
Controversies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—
The seating of the Democratic Senator-elect, John H.
Bankhead, of Alabama, and the insurgent revolt against
re-election of Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire,
as president pro-tem, gave
senate leaders greater concern today than the ponderous legislative issues confronting them in the new congress.

The opening session Monday may be devoted to a bitter contest over the seating of Bankhead. A senate
elections subcommittee, declaring Bankhead's election last November fraudulent, may pave the way to a fight to keep him from taking the oath of office.

Once this issue is settled—peacefully or after a battle—the senate
will have to decide the question of re-electing Moses as its presiding officer. An insurgent group, headed by the veteran Senator Norris
(R of Nebraska), has announced it will vote against Moses. Their minimum strength of nine votes
will be enough to keep Moses from winning, although no other candidate may receive the majority necessary for election. If a deadlock ensues, it was felt Moses would withdraw in order to restore peace to the senate and permit the election of some other Republican.

There was a possibility the Bankhead contest and controversy
over Moses might last several days. This would block all legislative action, since questions
are of the highest privilege. It would not interfere with the administration program, however.

The legislative program, approved by administration leaders,
called for prompt action on President Hoover's moratorium on World War debts. It will be presented to congress next Thursday,
when it will be referred to the senate finance committee for a recommendation. A favorable report was expected, as the President secured pledges from a majority of the committee members before he proclaimed it last summer.

A thorough investigation into all activities of the federal farm board
may be the first major task undertaken by the senate. A preliminary inquiry last week before the senate agriculture committee merely served to convince senators that a more thorough investigation is necessary.

All the other important legislative proposals—touching taxation,
the tariff and unemployment relief
by appropriations—must originate
in the house.

WOMAN WILL TREAT HER CHILD BETTER

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 25.—With a promise to treat her children better in the future, Mrs. Eliza Bland, 50, of Jackson Township near here,
returned to her home today under
a suspended sentence of $25 imposed by Judge V. A. Bennehoff that she had burned the hands of her six-year-
old daughter, Helen, with a hot
poker to "break her of a childish
habit."

Helen, still suffering from the
painful burns, was kept in the custody of Sheriff George Burkett for the time being and until additional investigation could be conducted.
Although three other children of Mrs. Bland denied they had received unusual punishment at the hands of their mother, Helen expressed a preference to remain at the home of the sheriff.

DEFENSE NEARING END OF TESTIMONY

MT. STERLING, Ky., Dec. 5.—
After having hammered into court records testimony to the effect that
W. B. Jones, Harlan County mine
union secretary on trial here for murder in connection with the bloody Harlan mine disturbances
last May, repeatedly admonished
the miners to "keep within the law," defense attorneys were apparently nearing the end of their case today.

Only a few witnesses remained
to be called by the defense attorneys, it was believed as the jury
hearing the case mulled over the latest of the chain of defense denials that Jones had deliberately plotted the Evans mine battle in which four men were slain.

COMPLETE PLOWING

ASHTABULA, O., Dec. 5.—Taking advantage of the mild weather
in early November, farmers of Ashtabula County, one of the state's leading agriculture communities,
completed 75 per cent of their spring plowing for oats and one half of the corn plowing.

MALOTTES SETTLE CASE; WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE IN COURT

Alimony suit brought by Lula M. Malotte against A. B. Malotte, proprietor of a confectionery, filling station, rooming and lodging house in Osborn, shortly after her husband's arrest as a suspect in the robbery of the Charles Monnett home, near Yellow Springs, November 20, has been settled and dismissed in Common Pleas Court. Malotte and his wife have reached an agreement whereby all his funds on deposit in the First National Bank in Osborn will be transferred to Mrs. Malotte, and she in turn will pay her attorney fee and costs of the court case, according to an entry on file. Upon consummation of the settlement, a temporary injunction heretofore allowed the wife, will be dissolved, the court ruled.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Divorce, on grounds of extreme cruelty and failure to provide, is asked in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Florence Warren against Aaron Warren, 135 Center St. They were married April 10, 1929. No children were born of the union. The plaintiff asks restoration to her maiden name.

PARTITION ASKED

Partition of property is the object of a suit brought in Common Pleas Court by the Peoples Building and Savings Co. through Attorney C. W. Whitmer against Wilson Davis, Carl Davis, Charles Davis, Anna Davis and Miles E. Davis.

WINS JUDGMENT

The Osborn Cooperative Grain Co. has been awarded a judgment amounting to $129.84 against William Perry in Common Pleas Court.

EXTENSION GRANTED

On application of Mary F. Gross and Walter C. Gross, as joint administrators of the estate of Frank M. Gross, deceased, time of settlement of the estate has been extended to December 1, 1932, with authority of Probate Court. The court decided the estate cannot be settled prior to the advanced date without a substantial loss.

APPOINT ADMINISTRATORS

Ralph O. Spahr has been appointed administrator of the estate of Emily Holmes, deceased, with bond of $1,200 in Probate Court. Because the value of the entire estate is so small, the usual appraisal will be dispensed with, the court ruled.

Elmore P. Gee has been named administrator of the estate of Rilda L. Phelps, late of Xenia, with $1,500 bond.

Appointment of Paul A. Fuller as administrator of the estate of Edgar Wilson, late of Xenia Twp., with bond of $1,000, has been made.

NAME EXECUTORS

Stanley Chaffin has been appointed executor of the estate of Flora Alice McClain, late of Ross Twp., and has posted bond of $1,000 in Probate Court. W. L. Clemons, O. A. Dobbins and Frank Shigley were named appraisers.

Kyle Dunkel and R. E. Dunkel have been named co-executors of the estate of Mary S. Dunkel, late of Xenia, without bond. The court named William A. Miller, Ernest Beatty and the Rev. H. B. McElree as appraisers.

VALUE ESTATES

Estate of Ella Miller, deceased, has a gross value of $1,528, composed exclusively of personal property, according to an estimate filed in Probate Court. Debts total $434 and the cost of administration is $181, leaving a net value of $913. Gross value of $2,257.50 is placed on the estate of John P. Wagner, deceased. The estate is without net value because debts and the cost of administration exactly equal the gross valuation.

PENNIES MOUNT ON LEGION SCALES THIS WEEK

Pennies continue to pour into the scale in front of the Xenia National Bank, placed there by Vulture 140 of the Forty and Eight, American Legion organization, to raise funds for the Children's party at the Greene County home on Christmas Eve. More than sixteen pounds of pennies have been collected and the veterans are certain that the quota of sixty-five pounds will be obtained before the time comes to tell old Santa that he can come on to the Children's Home this year.

The money given will be used by the Vulture to provide presents and a real Christmas for the children at the home who have no mother and father to communicate with St. Nick this year. Last year the Vulture gave the children a party that has been remembered through the drab days of vacation and school time at the institution and this year's promises to eclipse all others.

"Give freely of your pennies," is the urge of the committee and of course if you don't happen to have pennies in your pocket when you pass the scale, give something in the way of a piece of silver that may be used in this worthy cause."

APPEAL FOR CLOTHING

The people of Xenia should realize the fact that there are many deserving families in Xenia who are keeping their children in school and trying to keep up appearances who actually need clothes and food. If you will take the time to stand on the street and watch the little fellows going to school, see their red faces and little hands blue with the cold, and bodies scantily clad, you surely would open your hearts and respond to the Community Chest's plea for cast-off clothing and food of all kinds. Just take a few minutes, go into the basement, the attic and the closet and you will be surprised how many useful articles and the different foods you can spare for the needy during this depression. I have lived in this hospitable little city for more than forty years and I do not think an occasion of this kind has ever arisen but what it has been taken care of by the people.

The Carroll-Binder Co. furnishes the gas and oil I furnish the transportation. You furnish the goods and watch our "smoke."

SALE OF AUTO LICENSES STARTS SLOWLY; NEW LAW IS EXPLAINED

Sale of 1932 motor vehicle license plates, begun by the Greene County Auto Club earlier this week, is progressing slowly, Secretary Oliver Belden reports.

Beginning Monday, the plates will also be distributed from a branch office of the club to be maintained in a room at 44 W. Main St., although the tags will continue to be sold at club headquarters on the second floor of the Steele Bldg.

In order that the licenses may be obtained by motor vehicle owners with the least inconvenience, the club calls attention to the following requirements of the new state law, increasing the license fees on all classes of motor vehicles as follows:

Passenger cars — Twenty-five horsepower and less, $7; 25 to 28 horsepower, $10; 28 to 32 horsepower, $15; 32 to 36 horsepower, $20; more than 36 horsepower, $25.

Commercial cars — First 2,000 pounds, rate of 70 cents per 100 pounds; 2,000 to 3,000 pounds, $1.10 per 100 pounds; 3,000 to 4,000 pounds, $1.50 per 100 pounds; 4,000 to 6,000 pounds, $1.75 per 100 pounds; 6,000 to 10,000 pounds, $2 per 100 pounds; more than 10,000 pounds, $2.25 per 100 pounds.

Motorcycles—Fee of $5; side cars—fee of $1.50.

It is explained that the motor vehicle tag law, passed by the last legislature, which was one of the major measures of the special joint taxation committee, takes motor vehicles off the personal property plates, begun by the Greene County Auto Club earlier this week, is progressing slowly, Secretary Oliver Belden reports.

For the benefit of all concerned, automobile dealers are cautioned by the club not to fail to give the model designation and correct horsepower (S. A. E. rating) on every bill of sale executed. Thus the issuance of tags for passenger cars will be simplified.

Club officials point out this is extremely important for the reason there are five different fee classifications for passenger cars instead of three, as heretofore. Secretary Belden declares "the importance of having the correct horsepower stated on the bill of sale is very evident since the passenger car license fee can only be determined by the horsepower."

The license fee for commercial cars, according to the above schedule, is determined from the actual weight of the empty vehicle, fully equipped, ready to run. The scale weight, as shown by a weightmaster's weight slip, furnished by the license bureau, and signed by the weightmaster, must be presented to the license bureau with the application or the license plates cannot be issued.

Dealers' license plates are not legal for use on service trucks or wrecking cranes used in connection with a dealer's business. This class of motor vehicles must be licensed as are all other commercial cars. Dealers are also cautioned that they are liable to a fine for loaning dealer's licenses to customers. The customer is also liable to a fine for using the dealer's plates.

Here are other salient points to be remembered in procuring 1932 licenses: The person whose name appears on the bill of sale must sign the application for tags. If the bill of sale has been made out to more than one person, both must appear and sign the application. If license plates have been transferred from one car to another, proper transfer must be made before the 1932 plates can be obtained.

The 1932 plates may not be placed on cars until December 10. There will be no extension beyond midnight, December 31, for the use of the old 1931 plates.

Auto club officials remind automobile owners of the fact that by procuring the new tags now they will avoid the usual last-minute rush.

dollars for herself and her producers. She has a $250,000 trust fund. The principal can never be touched.

Miss Bow's marriage adds another flaming chapter to her series of spectacular romances. Her first romance in Hollywood was with a young scenario writer, Garret Ford, but she lists Gilbert Roland, rich Californian, as her first "true love." Clara next was reported engaged to Victor Fleming, screen director and soldier. Robert Savage, football hero at Yale, and son of a rich Duluth lumberman, also became enamored of Clara.

Her asserted friendship with a Dallas, Tex., physician brought widespread notoriety, and was interwoven with her romance with Harry Richman, star of the screen and stage. She was reported en route to New York one day during the past few weeks to "do a little shopping" when a mysterious Hollywood long distance telephone call halted her at Gallup, N. M., and she returned here.

Gary Cooper, the cowboy film actor, also admitted he was very fond of Clara, and the redheaded little actress often was seen with him at Hollywood functions.

Throughout several of Clara's reported romances Bell remained her tried and true friend.

"Eventually," said Clara, "I'll marry him."

secured by them from Mrs. Powers and her sister.

The letter follows:

"We are facing a real bitter fight, but if we fight together we will win."

"Never before is the old saying—'united we stand, divided we fall'—been more true."

"I wish to talk to you about the latest developments, especially first about the suit which they brought against us all. They will say that the check I gave you the other day was part of the estate of Mrs. Lemke."

"All you will need to do is to testify that you gave me $4,000 for the purpose of building a house at Quiet Dell. You gave me $2,000 one day and $2,000 a few days later."

"The check that I gave you was merely the return of your money as I would be unable to proceed with my plans due to this trouble."

"I paid you back the amount partly in cash and the biggest share by check. If you will testify to this effect they will have no case against us and then we will keep our money."

"You have heard me say that I have placed the money in the bank and since I returned part of it to you by check it proves that I did deposit it as I told you."

"Testify to this. Do not say a word to anyone previous to the trial but testify to it at the time."

"Now the second development is about the alleged clothing they got at the house."

"Listen, dear, it is useless for you to get them to believe that you did not know the clothes were in the house as it was impossible to get that much inside."

"Here is what you must do. Now dear, when they question you again let on that you are strongly against me. There is no reason why you should shield me and let on that you hate me for what I have done to you then tell them I brought the clothes from Quiet Dell. That they were from a friend who said he would call for them."

"This is all you absolutely know. This will clear you and will be in harmony with my plans."

"I asked you to write but three words to assure me you are with me. . . ."

"Do not be fooled by easy talk of the officers. Remember, dear, we must work together."

"I will defend you at the cost of my own life."

"Do not worry and be advised. . . (Signed) 'Love and kisses from Harry.'"

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.
—Isaiah, xxx, 1.

ONE THAT COUNTED

Fifty years ago today, The Los Angeles Times, of Los Angeles, California, printed its first issue. A few months later General (then Colonel) Henry Gray Otis became the real founder of the publication, by giving it life and meaning, and under his direction it became one of the really significant newspapers of the United States and so remains.

Regarding the purely material success of The Times it seems sufficient to say that it has kept abreast of the city in which it is published. The growth of that city has been amazing. A half century ago Los Angeles had 11,183 people. Today it has a population of 1,238,048, and its metropolitan area is credited with 2,318,526 people.

But even to say that The Times has fully kept up with this progress, is to tell only a part of the truth. It has led, and still leads, in this, reflecting the spirit of its founder, who carried on until his death in 1917, and in whom was no guile, neither compromise nor hesitation, when a point of honesty, honor or principle was at stake. General Otis never understood the meaning of the word "fear" or "surrender." Good was good, evil was evil. The one was to be supported, the other fought to a finish.

On Saturday, October 1, 1910, The Times Building was bombed by an agent of a trades organization, whose enmity it had incurred in the interest of its community. The structure was wrecked, and 20 members of the staff killed. Within a few hours, out of the muck and ruin came this defiant statement: "The Times was destroyed this morning by enemies of industrial freedom by dynamite bombs and fire. . . . They can kill our men and can wreck our buildings, but by the God above they cannot kill The Times." Success and victory cannot be denied that sort of grim grit and courage; and they have not been denied.

While The Los Angeles Times has stood for what is honest, right and of good report, it also has stood for up-to-date, modern journalism, of which its anniversary number in seven elaborate sections, and just received in this office, is a genuinely remarkable exposition. It is a real marvel of enterprise and accomplishment; and it is significant that on one of the covers is a cut of a proposed new home for the publication.

Speaking with appreciation born of more than a century of experience, the Free Press heartily congratulates The Times on its past, its present and its prospect for the years ahead.

GRACEFUL ACT

The Democratic State Central Committee of Arkansas has nominated the widow of Senator Caraway to succeed him. That is a proper and graceful act. The objectionable feature of Governor Parnell's appointment of Mrs. Caraway to the senate was the governor's statement that she would occupy a seat that "belonged" to her husband. Seats in the senate do not belong to those who fill them and cannot be bequeathed to friends or relatives. They belong to the people of the several states.

The East is no more inscrutable than the West. The failure of most Europeans and Americans to understand the Chinese or Japanese mind is due to their inability to approach that mind from its own standpoint instead of from theirs. They will not get far, as long as they are daunted by difference.

Nobody ought to quarrel with the Salt Lake City judge who has announced that between December 18 and January 5 he will hear no divorce cases. Throughout the Christmas tide, even a judge should be allowed a chance to forget about the sordid things of life.

The World Court protocol, which is due to come up for ratification by the senate at the forthcoming session of congress, stands an excellent chance of being lost in the shuffle of matters less remote from our domestic economy.

Is Science Driving Us Back

By VERY REV. W. R. INGE
Dean of St. Paul's Church, London
William Ralph Inge was born in Crayke, Yorkshire, June 6, 1860. He is a graduate of King's college, Cambridge, and has received many honorary degrees. He became a doctor of divinity in 1905. The Rev. Dr. Inge has been connected with many churches in England, and now is Dean of St. Paul's, London. He is the author of many books on religion, some of which are "Truth and Falsehood in Religion," "Faith," "Personal Idealism and Mysticism," "Outspoken Essays" and "Idea of Progress." He often is termed "The Gloomy Dean."

EVEN if the whole of the world order which we know must submit to universal doom, that only means that our world order is one of the purposes of God which, like all purposes that are not frustrated has its proper beginning, middle and end. In that case there may be and probably are other world orders of which we know nothing. The theory of an expanding and vanishing universe is a creed more pessimistic than Gotterdammerung. If the universe is running down like a clock, the clock must have wound up at a date which we could name. If we knew it, the world, if it is to have an end in time, must have had a beginning in time.

Is science itself driving us back to the traditional Christian doctrine that God created the world out of nothing at a certain date? That would be an amazing contradiction with some of the pre-suppositions upon which science is based. Or, if an absolute beginning and end are unthinkable, is it not reasonable to assume that whatever power wound up the clock might be able to wind it up again?

MY NEW YORK

By JAMES ASWELL

NEW YORK—Last week-end I was a guest at an extremely picturesque, expensive and cold Long Island estate. The theory of the owner is that winter does not really begin until the first week in December, frosty mornings to the contrary notwithstanding.

If there is anything which requires more courage than leaving a warm bed for the rigors of a totally unheated room whose windows have been open all night, I do not know what it is. Such experiences are doubtless what drove Lincoln upward from the farm.

My own log cabin shall be piped for hot air before it is wired for sound. I had rather listen to the singing of a single open valve than to the warblings of the cheeriest mocking birds. But it is my understanding that mocking birds have sense enough to winter south.

There lies one of the greatest disadvantages of this job. It is necessary to stay around town in order to write about it, although one of the first and most successful New York columns was written and mailed from Washington, D. C. I withhold the author's name so as not to embarrass his heirs. He died at a comparatively early age, from the high nervous pace of the nation's capital.

HELTER SKELTER HODGE-PODGE

I see by the papers, as the saying goes, that Joseph William Palmer is dead. He was a fabulous character of my youthful stamp-collecting days, with his reputation for being the wealthiest philatelic dealer in London and the romantic story of how he got his start—by finding a triangular Cape of Good Hope stamp in the gutter.

I ought to save this one for the weekly "What Few New Yorkers Know" stint, but Murray Hill, that eastern mid-section of the island which contains this apartment building, was originally and still has its prototype in Flushing, Long Island. The Murray family, from which both sections took their name, still occupies a manse in Flushing which has housed seven generations—a very rare record for any structure in these parts.

Two hundred years without moving is no mean feat.

Two actors discussing another, rather assiduous time, in "Times Square." "Yeah, he tats a mean dolly, that boy!" . . . Graham McNamee, as you may have noticed, did not report a Thanksgiving game for the air, the first time in years. . . . Rumor has it that this great figure of pioneering radio days is running into difficulty because of "unmultitudinous inaccuracies" in his broadcasting.

WIDE-EYED WANDERINGS

New York apartment settlements are springing up in profusion. . . . There is the Beaux Arts, whose French tone is accentuated by modernistic facade and doormen in mottled gendarm uniforms. . . . London Terrace, on the other hand, boasts car-starters who are replicas of English "bobbies." I never see the word "booboisie." Mr. Menckens' coinage, any more the reminder comes from my typewriter keys getting tripped on "bobbies".

The little cashier in that Broadway automatic voice-recording place near Forty-eighth street is a pip. . . . Francine Larrimore talks like a human being in her plays, not like an actress' idea of how an actress should talk.

CHARITY PLAN SUGGESTED FOR GOV'T WORKERS BRINGS THREAT OF PROBE

WASHINGTON.—The well-known system of raising money for charity by voluntary subscriptions, secured through the medium of key individuals who are in a position to make their displeasure felt in a fashion the average worker cannot afford to disregard, if volunteers are reluctant or niggardly, has just suffered a severe shock in Washington.

That is to say, an attempt was made to apply it to Uncle Sam's employees, whereupon Senator James Couzens of Michigan announced that if so, there will be a congressional investigation.

Of course, the senator explains, he approves of charity (though regretful that so much of it is necessary this winter) and has nothing but words of commendation for those by whom it is volunteered; he wishes merely to be assured that it really is voluntary.

In the case of some persons on the federal payroll undoubtedly it is. President Hoover, as an illustration, has stated that, to set an example for government workers generally, he himself will donate one day's remuneration to the capital's Community Chest for the months each of January, February and March, a total of $616.41.

Senator Couzens agrees that this gift, beyond question, is voluntary. He is not so certain as to quite all the rest.

Indeed, what elicited his investigatorial threat was complaint which has reached him, from sources nearer the foot of the official ladder, that $616.41 puts nothing like so serious a crimp in Mr. Hoover's $75,000 per annum (not to mention that he is a rich man besides) as $15.41 puts into a departmental clerk's $1,875, even though the proportions are the same.

It is true, if a departmental clerk on a $1,875 salary (and plenty of them manage to get along on that, without any additional private income, either) can see his way clear to contributing a day's pay in January, another in February and a third in March to the Washington Community Chest, the Michigan senator does not dispute his right to contribute it.

His attention was attracted, however, by a published remark of Engineer J. B. Gordon of the District of Columbia (prominently identified with Community Chest activities) to the effect that any one failing to make his voluntary contribution at the prescribed rate hereafter will be a "marked man." Civil Service Commissioner Thomas E. Campbell, who originally hit on the three-day voluntary contribution idea, expresses surprise, to be sure, that Senator Couzens should interpret this casual observation by Engineer Gordon as implying any thought of coercion, since the intrinsic beauty of the whole concept lies in its absolutely voluntary character. Nevertheless, the senator wants an investigation.

In giving credit to Commissioner Campbell for devising the three-day plan, perhaps it is fair to recognize that the initial suggestion of affording the rank and file of the government's humbler employees an opportunity to join the higher-bracketed fraternity in relief of unemployment distress came from Chairman Walter S. Gifford of President Hoover's committee on the winter's emergency.

Chairman Gifford's recommendation, had it proved possible to adopt it literally, would have enabled the government workers, indeed, to contribute even more liberally than the three-day program contemplates—unless Senator Couzens' interference drives it on the rocks.

Commissioner Campbell's scheme, after all, is limited to a mere bagatelle of a day's pay monthly for three months.

Chairman Gifford proposed that the workers be given a chance to make a genuinely worth-while sacrifice. He urged that each worker (the small fry, naturally; not those in the upper brackets) surrender his job at least one, and preferably two, days weekly to an otherwise unemployed alternate until times improve.

That the workers themselves did not take at all enthusiastically to this notion would not necessarily have been a fatal objection to it (means probably could have been found to persuade them to acquiesce in it voluntarily) but Comptroller General J. R. McCarl took exception to it, pointing out that it was against the law.

It had other drawbacks also—was described by one critic, in fact, as "impractical and asinine," which was no way to refer to an idea hatched by the president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. Suffice it to say that Comptroller McCarl was right; it was against the law.

Commissioner Campbell then came forward with his substitute and now Senator Couzens is threatening to knock that into a cocked hat.

This not only is bad for the system of blackjacking government employees into voluntarily subscribing more than they can afford to charity; it may tend to make folk who are not in the government service balky, too.

How Cancer May Develop

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A woman writes this department to ask about the advisability of removing moles.

Dr. Bloodgood, who is the leader of the campaign to educate the public to the dangers of cancer, says that skin cancers in every case have an antecedent benign lesion. The average patient recalls having some minor defect of the skin for many years, and he is not conscious when it began to change its character. These precancerous defects may be warts, moles or roughenings (keratoses) and may have existed for years.

"Beautiful women do not have cancer" was the forceful way it was put few years ago. This, of course, needs some interpretation and is only partially true. It means that a beautiful woman who is vain about her complexion will have these blemishes removed and hence end the danger of having them turn into cancer.

There are, of course, a great many different kinds of moles. Pigmated moles or birth marks are due to the formation of small blood vessels massed together. Hairy moles and the flat, warty moles are so frequent that hardly anyone is free of them. Most dangerous from the standpoint of subsequent cancer are the roughened, scaly places which develop on the skin of the face and hands, especially of middle aged and elderly people of a sandy, red-haired complexion. They are especially likely to appear on people with dry skin and with a tendency to freckles.

The advance that has been made in the treatment of all these conditions by modern methods of dermatology is extraordinary. There are now a half-dozen methods of dealing with one or the other of them—all effective if the case is properly selected, and all unknown thirty years ago. They include the use of carbon dioxide snow, electrolysis, X-ray, ultra-violet light, diathermy and electro coagulation. It is little less than astonishing to see in a modern text book on skin diseases, the "before and after" pictures of these conditions and to observe how they melt away under the skillful use of some of these methods of treatment. Enormous warty blemishes which cover almost half the side of the face are made to disappear by electro coagulation that a hardly noticeable scar is that remains.

An especially dangerous type mole is the blue mole. These have a lead-like hue and always should be completely removed early in life.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

L. T. M.: "Is it harmful to take veronal occasionally for insomnia?"

Answer: This is not easy to answer. My personal inclination is to say that it is not harmful. Provided the exact terms of the question are fulfilled—that is to say, provided you really mean "occasionally." It is astonishing how many people take some form of sedative fairly regularly—especially the barbiturates. The barbiturates are luminal, veronal (or more properly barbital), medinal, amytal, alonal, ipral, dial, etc. Their advantages for the purposes for which they are used are many. Certainly they are superior to all other drugs. They seldom cause fatal poisoning, even when large doses are used. They have little real tendency to habit formation. Therefore, if taken as was said, occasionally, in small doses, they do little harm and are a relief to overwrought nerves.

Still all sedatives should be handled with respect and avoided if possible. The state of California prohibits the sale of the above mentioned products without a physician's prescription.

Girl Believes In Boy

By MRS. MARY MORTON

If there are the lowest form of humor, as it is said, anonymous letters are certainly the very lowest form of correspondence. The greatest trouble with an anonymous letter is that no matter how the recipient despises it and the sender, it cannot help breed distrust in his or her mind. No one who receives one can put it quite out of their heart and feel the same confidence in the person whose goodness or sincerity is questioned in the missive.

HIGH SCHOOL AGE: I think it would be wise to tell the boy friend about the letters and ask him to be perfectly frank if he really feels the way they say he does. Tell him that you haven't taken the letters seriously, but just the same you cannot help feeling that you would like to have him contradict the statements made therein, so as to rid your mind of any doubts they may have created. Or, if you don't want him to know about the letters, impress on his mind that you rely on him to let you know any time he has any objection to taking you anywhere, and you will do the same if your feelings change toward him.

TRUE BLUE: I am so glad you surmounted all your troubles and have your three fine children to love you and work for. Money doesn't mean much when the heart is troubled, does it?

PUZZLED GIRLS: I wish you had given me more time to answer your letter, girls. I am afraid this answer is altogether too late. I hope you went in informal frocks to the banquet, as long as the boys were not wearing dress clothes.

ANOTHER PEGGY writes of her love for No. 1 young man and her marriage with No. 2. Wonder if this particular triangle is confined to girls by the name of Peggy? She loved No. 1 when she was in school and later they had the usual quarrel. Later she married No. 2, thinking she could learn to love him. He is a fine husband and they have two of the "sweetest little girls," but she still yearns for No. 1.

Did it ever occur to you, Peggy, that No. 1 may not be nearly the man your husband is, and that if you once saw him or were associated with him you would be tickled to death to go home to your husband and babies and settle down forever? Stranger things have happened. Why not try to make up your mind that your husband is the best you could ever hope to have, and that you are going to be satisfied with him and stop yearning for No. 1?

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: My problem is similar to that of quite a few girls: I'm afraid of boys! Please tell me how to get over it. I'm 16, tall, dark, not bad looking. I have nice clothes, can dance, but somehow boys and I don't hit it off so well.

"MALHEURANCE." Did you ever stop to think that the boys may be afraid of you, too, dear? Most boys want to befriend with girls, but are often shy and don't know what to say to them. That is why the girls that take boy friends usually, chatter a lot and seem to make no difference between girl and boy friends make such a hit.

What do you talk about when with your girl friends? Boys are interested in much the same things—school, parties, mutual friends, sports, maybe books, plays, motion pictures, trips, etc. The next time you have a chance to talk to a boy try to think it's a girl you're talking to. Treat him as a friend not as a strange being with whom you have nothing in common. Above all, try to be a friend to him and to put him at ease and you will forget yourself and be comfortable. Good luck, little girl.

Match Coiffure To Mood

By GLADYS GLAD

One of the most popular stage and screen stars makes it a practice always to match her coiffures to her moods. When she feels demure and sedate, she lets her hair fall into a soft, gracious bob. But when she feels smart and sophisticated, she adopts a sleeker coiffure. And she twists her hair back over her left ear because of the gay, daring effect it has on her appearance.

There certainly is something decidedly chic about an exposed ear. And judging from the predicted new hat and coiffure styles, we're going to be seeing a lot of them this season. All of which means that ear make-up is going to be just as important to milady as facial make-up.

Before you do any exposing, take my tip and give your ears a close inspection. If they are of the very protruding variety, cover them up with your hair—and be thankful you can do that much. The boy-friend, poor lad, can't even do that, you know. But if their defects lie in their coloring or size, you can do a great deal to improve them. It is by the skillful use of rouge in the first place, that you can enhance the attractiveness of your ears. Dry rouge should be used for this purpose rather than paste rouge. For ear make-up simply must not look artificial—and the paste rouge is difficult to apply delicately enough.

If the ears are prettily formed, the entire tips should be delicately rouged. For pale, waxy ears are unwholesome and unattractive looking. And if the ears appear too large the rouge should be applied only along their inside edge, to help reduce their apparent size.

The hair can also be employed to improve the appearance of the ears. If the ears are too broad, a wispy cluster of ringlets before each one will help to decrease their apparent width. If the lobes are perfect, while the upper part of the ears is unattractive, the hair should be waved low down over the upper half, and the tips alone delicately rouged.

Earrings, too, will help to modify the appearance of the ears. Large button earrings, for instance, will make too-large ears appear smaller. While long, dangling ear ornaments will slenderize and add length to the ears, and will greatly enhance their attractiveness.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Standard Weight

Harriet: The standard weight for a girl 20 years old and five feet tall is about 114 pounds.

Eyewash

Lila May Brown: One teaspoon of boric acid in a glass of tepid, pure water forms a good eyewash. Another good one is boiled water to which a bit of salt—just enough to give the water a faint, salty taste—has been added.

L. K. B.: You can have your lips reshaped by plastic surgery. I know of no other method. If you apply your lipstick lightly, and do not carry the color out to the very edge of the lips, your mouth will appear smaller. Exercise is the remedy for your friend's bust.

FRAMED
by Phil

Dayton Fairview and Hillsboro will replace Wilmington and Washington C. H. on Xenia Central High's 1932 football schedule.

The fact two of Xenia's oldest football rivals have been dropped from the gridiron chart next fall is regrettable. But it may be attributed to what can only be described as a "regrettable" attitude taken by school officials of both Wilmington and Washington C. H. after Xenia had installed floodlights at the beginning of the 1931 season to introduce night football games at Cox Field.

Central's annual games with Wilmington and Washington were both scheduled to be played and were played at Cox Field last fall. Admittedly Wilmington and Washington were doing Central a favor by agreeing to play here at night instead of the afternoon, but both schools, figuring the gate receipts would be substantially increased since the contests would be staged at night, held out for a larger guarantee. Their idea was to share, if possible, in any greater financial returns accruing to Xenia through inception of the nocturnal football plan.

Then, when it came time to book return games for 1932, it being the turn of the Buccaneers to play at Wilmington and at Washington next season, officials of these two schools balked at paying Xenia similar guarantees.

In other words, Xenia requested, and was justified in requesting, guarantees similar to those Wilmington and Washington had received before they agreed to play night football here last season.

Not possessing facilities for night football, neither Wilmington nor Washington relished the idea of paying stiff guarantees such as Xenia had been compelled to pay them.

The entire matter boils down to one conclusion. Why should any other school seek to profit by any plan devised locally to put scholastic football on a paying basis here? Instead of trying to "hold up" Central High for more money, just because nocturnal football may increase patronage at home games here, it would be more practical if other schools like Wilmington and Washington would follow Xenia's example and install floodlight systems of their own.

Congratulations are in order for Andy Frazer, star tackle, the only Xenia Central football player to be selected on the 1931 first All-Miami Valley League grid team. Andy was picked on the all-star league second team in 1930 as a junior. He was probably the outstanding tackle in league competition last fall. Opposing teams usually paid him the compliment of playing two players against him on the line. Even so, Andy more than held his own. Few gains were made through his position. Frequently he was the first player down the field under punts and he seldom missed the tackle. Everett Hall, Xenia's other tackle, made the second mythical eleven and missed making the first team by only a couple of votes. He was also one of the pillars of the Xenia line and gave an especially brilliant exhibition in the Miamiburg game.

It was surprising that Freddie Dalton, stellar Buccaneer fullback, did not make the first all-star team, although he did rate the second eleven. The fact he is only a junior may have had something to do with it. Freddie received honorable mention in 1930 and next year, as a senior, he will doubtless rate a berth on the mythical first team. Dalton probably did two things better than any other backfield man in the league. As a line plunger and on defense in backing up the line he was unexcelled. He lacked only speed and still has something to learn on pass defense. All by himself, he probably gained more yardage than all other Xenia backs combined. Howard Thompson, halfback and star punter, and Carl Smith, light but aggressive center, received honorable mention on the mythical teams. Thompson's superiority in the league as a kicker was unquestioned. Smith's value to the team was greater than most people realized. He was in on almost every play.

Coaches of the six M. V. L. football teams, in drafting the annual all-star teams, are partial to seniors. They believe in bestowing recognition upon players in their last season of scholastic competition. This is evident in the make-up of the 1931 all-star league first team. Nine of the eleven players chosen are seniors. Two exceptions were the Coach "Pinky" Williams' Charles Covanti, placed at right guard, is a junior, while Ed Archie, colored flash, accorded a halfback post, is only a freshman. Capt. Rex Weaver, Miamiburg, selected at quarterback, was voted the outstanding backfield man in the league, and Bob Woolley, Sidney, at center, the best lineman.

Lang Falcons Defeat General Motors

OBTAIN EARLY LEAD AND CAPTURE FIRST VICTORY OF SEASON

Smith Leads Attack In 27 to 18-Win; Famous Five Wins

Assuming an early lead and maintaining it from start to finish, the Lang Chevrolet Falcons earned their initial court triumph of the season, defeating the General Motors Radio quintet from Dayton, 27 to 18, on the Armory floor here Friday night.

The Dayton basketballers experienced the utmost difficulty in penetrating the closely knit Falcon defense in the first half and obtained few shots at the hoop. Even with the entry of Clayton Roll and Moses, a former Dayton Silvers star, into the lineup, the visiting combination did not function properly and at halftime the Xenia team held a 17 to 6 advantage.

Dayton spurred as the second half commenced and two baskets by Roll, a free throw by Brady and a two-pointer by "Pinnle" Coleman brought the team within four points of the Falcons after six minutes of play. Then the Falcons began hitting the basket once more and the General Motors rally went for naught.

The passwork of the Falcons showed marked improvement over last week when they lost their season's opener to the bearded House of David club, and their basket-shooting was also better.

The Xenia quintet has booked a game with the Wilbur Wright Flyers, a particularly strong team, for next week at the Armory.

Spotting its opponents seven points at the start of the game, the Famous Five, also a Xenia independent team, came from behind and notched out a one-point victory over an Alpha quintet by a score of 34 to 33 in an exciting preliminary. Alpha led by one point, 19 to 18, at the half. Leonard and P. Weaver, with twelve and eleven points, respectively, starred for Xenia. Brill, Barnett and Cyphers did the bulk of the scoring for Alpha.

Reference—Parrett. CEDARVILLE GRID PLAYERS TO GET LETTERS

Gridiron services of fifteen or sixteen members of Cedarville College's 1931 football squad will be fittingly recognized when letters are awarded this number of yellow jacket gridgers, probably at chapel services sometime next week. Coach Marvin Borst discloses. The exact number of Cedarville players who will receive numerals has not been decided.

The Borstmen won two games out of seven played during the season, scoring thirty-eight points to 142 for opponents. Cedarville climaxed its season, however, with a surprising 12 to 6 triumph over Barnes Junior College, a particularly pleasing victory to followers of the team because Urbana had previously beaten Cedarville, 15 to 0, earlier in the season. Cedarville's 1931 grid record follows:

Cedarville, 0; Mt. Union, 39. Cedarville, 7; Rio Grande, 18. Cedarville, 13; Union College, 18. Cedarville, 0; Urbana Junior College, 18.

Cedarville, 6; Rio Grande, 31. Cedarville, 0; Wilmington, 24. Cedarville, 12; Urbana Junior College, 6.

Cedarville And Bath Divide Twin Bill But Other Winners Sweep Double-Headers; Resist Out-Of-County Invasions

Cedarville boys, Bath Twp. girls, Ross Twp. boys and girls, Jefferson Twp. boys and girls and Bryan High boys and girls of Yellow Springs were victorious Friday night in basketball games involving Greene County Class B high school teams.

Cedarville and Bath Twp. teams divided honors in a double-header that served to dedicate the gymnasium of the new Bath Consolidated High School at Osborn, Bath girls won their preliminary game, 28 to 25, but Cedarville boys took the measure of the Osborn quintet, 21 to 16 to earn an even break for their school.

Ross Twp. and Spring Valley boys and girls' teams waged two exciting contests on the Valley floor. With the aid of eleven points scored from the free throw line, Ross boys won their game, 27 to 25.

Jefferson Twp. High also won three games from Selma High at Bowersville, all by decisive margins. Jefferson boys scored a 35 to 25 victory, the girls vanquished their opponents, 33 to 22 and the school's junior high team defeated Selma juniors, 25 to 8. Following are box scores of county games:

Two Of Best Appear Here—Fans May Rise And Cheer

Two of the pictures that will be rated among the finest of the year will be seen at the Orphium during the coming week. One of these, "The Spirit of Notre Dame," has probably earned more praise from widely divergent sources than any movie in months. The other, "Dirigible," will undoubtedly be considered among the first ten pictures of the year.

"Dirigible" appears here Sunday Monday and Tuesday. It is a thrilling air drama made by Columbia, offering startling photography and air scenes with strong dramatic moments. It stars Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Fay Wray but the cast also includes Hobart Bosworth, Harold Goodwin, Clarence Muse and Emmet Corrigan.

"The Spirit of Notre Dame" is Universal's screen tribute to the year.

memory of Knute Rockne and was photographed on the Notre Dame campus and in several football stadia. It captures the spirit of youth as embodied in the great coach, and has earned the praise of reviewing committees, critics and the public. In J. Farrell McDonald the films produced a player who not only looks like Rockne but acts and talks like him.

The starring role was assigned Lew Ayres and he is given support from such experienced players as William Bakewell, McDonald, Andy Devine, Harry Barris, Florence Lake, Nat Pendleton and Sally Blane. Notre Dame football stars of past years who play in the picture include the "four horsemen," Don Miller, Elmer Layden, Jim Crowley and Harry Stuhldreher; Adam Walsh, Bucky O'Connor, John Law, Moon Mullins, Art McManmon, Al Howard and John "One-Play" O'Brien. At times more than 100 football players appeared for scenes in the film. It will be at the Orphium Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

DEMOCRAT TO MAKE
RACE FOR CONGRESS
IN THIS DISTRICT

Announcement was made Thursday by Gwyn Sanders, Marysville, O., prosecuting attorney of Union County, that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Seventh Ohio District at the May 10, 1932 primary election.

Prosecutor Sanders is the first Democrat to file. Now only 26 years of age, Sanders, who entered public life in 1926 when he was elected prosecutor, is believed to be the youngest prosecuting attorney holding office in Ohio.

Two candidates are already enrolled in the race for the Republican congressional nomination. Attorney L. T. Marshall, Xenia, former state senator, and E. E. Greiner, Springfield, manufacturer and banker, announced their candidacies coincident with the revelation made by Charles Brand, Urbana, Republican, and present congressman from this district, that he will retire from politics at the expiration of his present term and will not seek renomination at the primary next year.

With the announced withdrawal of Congressman Brand, the congressional race is apparently developing into a free-for-all affair.

It also became known Thursday that the names of six Logan County Republicans are being prominently mentioned as possible candidates for the Republican nomination. These include former Common Pleas Judge John C. Haver; Prosecuting Attorney George S. Middleton; Central Committee woman Laura Dow Gaddy; Dr. C. K. Startzman, county executive committee chairman; E. Ray Hennessey, all of Bellefontaine; and Winfield H. Kinnan, of DeGraff.

The congressional situation was further complicated by the disclosure another former state senator, Sherman S. Deaton, Urbana, Republican and prominent attorney, may decide to throw his hat in the political ring and seek the Republican nomination. Deaton, however, would neither affirm nor deny the report.

GREENE COUNTY BOY
GIVEN FIRST PRIZE
FOR YEARLING CALF

Lewis Turner of Beaver Creek Twp. won first prize money of $55 in the Junior Feeder's Junior Yearling class and Everett Bailey of Yellow Springs placed second and won $25 prize money in the senior calf class of the Junior Feeder's Exhibit at the seventh annual Cleveland Livestock Show this week. Edwards' exhibit consisted of five Hereford calves and Bailey fed five Angus calves. Joe Ferguson of Zimmerman, with a Hereford junior yearling and Thomas Haines of Painter'sville exhibiting a Shorthorn junior yearling received honor ribbons.

Forty-five calves were exhibited from Greene County in a show of more than 500 calves from Ohio and Indiana. The calves were exhibited Monday and Tuesday at the equestrian at the Cleveland Union Stock Yards and Wednesday night were sold at auction by Col. Earl Gartin. The grand champion steer owned by Vernon Benroth of Vaughnsville, Ohio was a shorthorn junior yearling weighing 920 pounds and sold for 90c per pound or $846. The reserve champion sold for 50c per pound and the Indiana State Champion brought 35c.

Greene County calves averaged about 11c per pound. The boys and their friends drove through to Cleveland Sunday and Monday and were furnished free lodging by the Cleveland Show. Monday evening the group attended a banquet at Hotel Winton, and on Tuesday and Wednesday forenoon trips were made through the newspaper plants of the Cleveland News and Plain Dealer, livestock packing plants, the Lake front, Nola Park, the home of Mazda Lamp, and other places of interest. Polo and a rodeo furnished night entertainment.

On the way home the motor caravan visited points of interest including the Iron ore docks and fish docks at Huron and Harding's tomb at Marion.

Other new officers chosen are: Dr. Ralph Donges, vice-president; Miss Bertha Hyman, secretary; and Miss Mildred Hyman, treasurer. All the officers live in Xenia. The organization is composed of alumni and former students of Ohio State University, residing in Greene County. "Get-together" meetings of similar groups were held Friday in all parts of the country, the occasion being the yearly celebration of "Ohio State Day."

Following the dinner, a social hour was enjoyed and plans for future activities of the group during the next twelve months were discussed. The organization expects to sponsor a picnic for its members next spring. Formation of a University Club in Xenia, the membership to include representatives of all colleges and universities, was also discussed.

GRAND MASTER OF
ODD FELLOWS HEARD

The Rev. B. F. Reading, Toledo, grand master of the I. O. O. F. Lodge of Ohio, gave the principal address at a meeting of the I. O. O. F. Lodges of the fifty-eighth district at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Yellow Springs Thursday evening. Preceding his address the Rev. Mr. Reading conducted a school of inspection.

J. W. Shippers, Dayton, district representative, also spoke and music was furnished by the Xenia I. O. O. F. Orchestra. Delegates attending the meeting were served an oyster supper at the Presbyterian Church by the women of that church.

More than 100 men attended the meeting from Fairfield, Cedarville, Yellow Springs, Spring Valley, Xenia and Gem City Lodge, Dayton.

ILLUSTRATED BIBLE LESSON

ROM. 15:22-29; 2 TIM. 4:6-18; TITUS 1:5-16; 3:11-14: From his first imprisonment Paul probably was released to continue his missionary journeys for a period of several years, until he was imprisoned in Rome a second time under greater hardships and with fewer privileges. "Only Luke is with me," Paul wrote. It was during this second imprisonment that he wrote "the pastoral epistles" to Timothy and Titus.

Among Paul's last words, written to Timothy shortly before he was beheaded under Nero, Paul gives us a picture of his 30 years of Christian service and of the spirit with which he faced his executioners: "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness. . . ."

"Rome and Beyond"

The purpose of these pastoral epistles was to encourage Paul's pupils to "carry on" after his death—to "maintain good works." His last words were for his friends. He asked few favors for himself except a cloak to lessen the misery of his dungeon and some parchments that he might continue his writings.

Paul's dependence now as always was upon the Lord Jesus: "The Lord stood by me, and strengthened me. . . . The Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be the glory for ever and ever. Amen."

GOLDEN TEXT: 2 TIM. 4:7

Mr. Norman Fort, a former member of the same board, all of Cleveland, were on the campus part of Saturday and Sunday.

The general faculty at the meeting Tuesday evening decided to close school for the holidays, Friday afternoon, December 18, and open school on Monday morning, January 4, 1932.

The Ranking Teacher Training officials of Ohio met in session in the red room of the Neil House, Columbus, Thursday morning from 10 o'clock to 1 o'clock. The meeting was presided over by Mr. L. L. Louthian, assistant supervisor of teacher training of department of education. Those who attended the meeting from "Wilberforce" were Assistant Superintendent J. E. Newsome and Miss Lucinda Cook.

President G. H. Jones was in Washington, D. C., the first of the week on business for the school. Dr. F. A. Jurkat of Cedarville College, spoke to a class of students of the history department Friday morning in Shorter Hall.

Mr. C. A. DeVoe, principal of the high school of Bowersville will bring a delegation of fifty students and citizens to make a tour of the school and plant, Monday afternoon.

Mr. Charles Saulsbury, director of the Musical Department, spent Thanksgiving with friends in Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. Grace Wallis and the Wilberforce Quartette will take part in a musical program Saturday evening at eight o'clock, given by the National Cash Register Co. in Dayton.

Mr. Harold Thompson, a representative of the Rex Laboratories, Inc., manufacturing chemists, Wilmington, Del., was a visitor of the school Thursday.

President G. H. Jones, Dr. J. Aubrey Lane, president of the Athletic Association and Prof. Norwood Shields, chairman of the discipline committee went to Institute, W. Va., Friday, to hold a conference with President John W. Davis of West Virginia State College to adjust matters which arose between the two football teams after the game Thanksgiving Day.

In appreciation of the work of the football squad Mr. O. Clemmons of Dayton gave a banquet to the boys in the dining room of Arnett Hall. A very enjoyable time was spent and after the boys had finished their dinner toasts were made by the invited members of the Athletic Association. After leaving the dinner a smoker was given at the homes of the several fraternities of the neighborhood.

The friends of Mrs. Mabel Clark Blair of Cleveland, and Mr. Homer Collins of Piqua, were surprised when cards were received announcing their marriage Thanksgiving afternoon at the home of the bride's relatives in Columbus. The bride is a well known instructor and musician in Cleveland. The groom is a contractor and one of the leading business men of Piqua, O. The couple will make their home in Piqua.

In keeping with an invitation sent by Mr. L. L. Louthian, associate supervisor of teacher training work, department of education, the teachers of teacher training work of the college of education and their students, met in the auditorium of Galloway Hall Wednesday afternoon and heard the first series of a radio program for 1931-1932. The program was under the auspices of the Ohio School of the Air, Crosley Radio Corporation (WLW) and the Ohio Education Association. The speakers were B. O. Skinner, director of education, Columbus, F. M. Shelton, superintendent of the schools of Springfield, and L. A. Pechstein, dean of the College of education, University of Cincinnati.

The young women in Arnett Hall, assisted by their matron, Mrs. Nancy Luebers, were successful in raising sufficient funds by selling candles, to purchase a Philco radio. It is placed in the assembly room where the young women enjoy themselves by listening in to all the leading programs of the day.

The student body held a hilarious victory celebration on the campus Friday afternoon in honor of the football squad who played and won eight games, giving the team the "scholastic" championship among Negro colleges for 1931.

The students gathered in front of Shorter Hall, fully supplied with tin horns and other articles suitable to bring their shouts to the attention of the neighborhood. The line of march was formed with the R. O. T. C. Band taking the lead. They made their way to the Beacon gymnasium where short talks were made by the coach, Mr. Harry Graves and the two assistants, Mr. Henry Coruthers and Mr. Edward Ritchie. At the conclusion of the talks the students gathered on the old Athletic Field and took part in a bonfire and roasting wieners.

The performance of "Tampa" by one of the students brought about considerable laughter. This was followed with a "Trouble Burning," which included the schools defeat. The jollification closed with a general social in the gymnasium. President Gilbert H. Jones and Prof. C. H. Johnson attended a ministerial and lay delegate convention in Newark, Ohio, Tuesday. There were delegates from the conferences in the Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Ohio and Northern Ohio districts. These delegates will attend the General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church which meets in Cleveland next May.

The purpose of the meeting in Newark was to consider the advisability of formulating plans to bring about a movement for re-trenchment and if possible to abolish departments which are of very little use to the general church, thereby saving the church more than $100,000 a year in operating departments.

A committee was appointed to consider the matter of making recommendations to the General Conference for the establishment of one department to include the Sunday School Union, the Allen League and the Educational Department, have one General Secretary. The Church Extension and Missionary Department to come under the management of one General Board to look after the work. It was also thought best to merge the church papers with one general editorial staff. The delegates also thought it best for the church to employ one public accountant to audit the books of all schools supported by the general church, also the financial accounts of the merged departments.

The matter of electing additional bishops was considered. This movement no doubt will be the biggest thing to consider at the General Conference. The lay delegates, and many of the ministerial delegates, feel that there are not enough bishops to look after the church work and that it is not necessary to elect others, notwithstanding the fact that the Ohio conference has a candidate in the person of the Rev. J. C. Anderson of Columbus, O.

COMMUNITY CHEST
CONTINUES TO GROW

Voluntary contributions reported Thursday, including an anonymous cash gift of $50, have boosted Xenia's Community Chest fund to $10,253.57.

Although the amount is short of the $12,000 designated as the goal of the fourth annual campaign, chest officials nevertheless point with considerable pride to the fact the sum still represents the largest amount obtained since the chest plan was adopted in Xenia four years ago.

The anonymous $50 subscription was turned in to chest headquarters by a solicitor Thursday, the donor requesting that the source of the contribution be withheld. Upon inquiry, chest officials learned the donor was out of the city while the week's solicitation for funds was in progress.

AUTO RECOVERED

An Essex sedan, belonging to Virgil Allen, 26 Gunckel St., Dayton, former Xenian, stolen in Dayton Thanksgiving Day, was found abandoned on the Brush Road, west of Wilberforce, Thursday afternoon, and returned to the owner Friday. Sheriff John Baughn announces. The car had not been damaged and none of the accessories was missing except the original license plates, which had been replaced by Illinois tags.
